This aerial photograph shows a large, irregularly shaped property. A thick, teal dashed line traces the boundary of the land, starting from the top left, following the top edge, then turning diagonally down to the right, and finally following the bottom edge. The property contains a central area with several small buildings, a fenced-in field, and a dirt road. The surrounding landscape is a mix of sandy, sparsely vegetated ground and denser green forest. A white arrow points from the text 'Camino de Acceso' to a dirt road that runs along the right side of the property, parallel to the teal dashed line.
